

Kim & Theo

Helping Stop the Cycle of Trauma

Theo Fleury is a hockey legend whose life experiences serve to illuminate how resilience is possible. Kim Barthel trains therapists and teachers all over the world about making sense of complex behaviour. But you'd never see her with a hockey stick and you wouldn't see him writing about neurobiology. Or so we would have thought...

Factory workers, executives, homeless people, from Christians to Buddhists and every shade of grey and purple in between, young and old - all find something in Kim and Theo's conversations that they can relate to. The secret in the sauce, the critical ingredient that they're essentially modelling, is respectful connection. But they're both works in progress, they're likeable, they're approachable, they have humility, they're both great storytellers, they're real people. No more, no less.

* $185 price is only available to people currently working as educators and only from May 15 until June 15, 2017. Registration must be made with a valid school division email address to qualify. If you do not have an email address through the school division, please call to hear other options.

Registration and payment must be received in full on or before July 15th, 2017 to qualify as early bird. To qualify for any special rate, registration and payment (or Purchase Order) must be received before the deadline.
